

Actemium will be attending the 10th edition of the Brasil Offshore trade show, a meeting point for Brazil's leading oil and gas companies

The Brasil Offshore trade show, which is now in its 10th edition, gathers the Brazilian oil and gas market's main players, the intention being to foster innovation and networking while creating new business opportunities in the industry. The event, which will be held between June 25th and 28th in Macaé (Rio de Janeiro), will be attended by Actemium, one of the industry's most renowned EPC contractors and a leading offshore maintenance specialist.

Actemium is an important player in the Brazilian oil and gas market, offering solutions and services aimed at catering for the entire Oil & Gas industry, covering the Upstream, Midstream and Downstream segments. Within the offshore maintenance sector, Actemium offers planning, painting, boilerwork, electrical and instrumentation, rope and scaffolding access and laser scanning services, among others.

The company has 3 Construction and Assembly contracts underway with Petrobras and operates in a number of UO-RIO (Rio de Janeiro Operational Unit) platforms located in the Campos basin. Actemium Óleo & Gás Offshore is based in Macaé and employs some 1,600 collaborators, a team driven by excellence that has now completed more than ten successful Maintenance Shutdowns with zero accidents, presenting the lowest RIR (Recorded Incident Rate) for 2018 from among the companies providing services at UO-RIO.

Come and get to know Actemium's portfolio of services and solutions.

We will be delighted to receive you in booth C-19 between June 25th and 28th!
